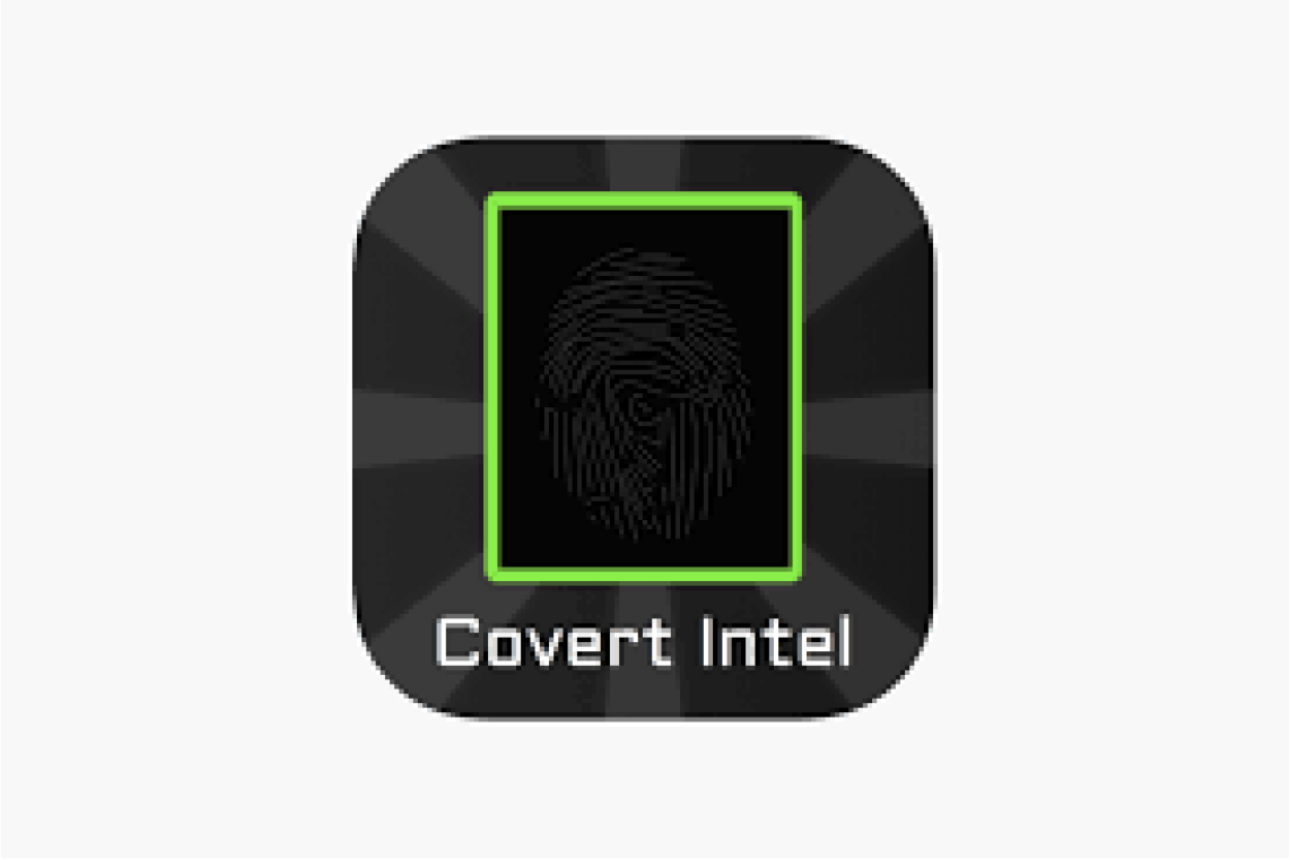
COVERT INTEL: Terms That Iran is Going TO Offer USA Tomorrow

HAL TURNER | WORLD | FEBRUARY 25, 2026 | HITS: 6473



This Content is for Subscribers only --

Iran has finalized a detailed nuclear deal proposal, approved by senior leaders, to present to the United States at a meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, on Thursday.

According to Covert Intelligence Sources (2) the terms are as follows:

1. Iran is willing to reduce uranium enrichment from 60% to about 3.6%, similar to the 2015 nuclear deal.
2. For the current deal, Iran proposes suspending future enrichment for 7 years; the U.S. is pushing for 10, and the matter is still under negotiation.

The main dispute is Iran's existing stockpile of hundreds of kilograms of fissile material. Tehran refuses to ship it abroad, offering only to dilute it, while Washington demands its removal.

4:09 PM EST -- Chairman of Iran's Defense Council : Iran will consider any attack by the United States, no matter how small, as the initiation of an all-out war, and the response will be according to that.

Hal Turner Analysis and Opinion

HAL Turner Radio Show

The evidence has been presented.

The military architecture is the prosecution's case.

The F-22s are the exhibit.

The Aircraft carriers are the verdict and Sentence waiting to be imposed.

Iranian Foreign Minister Araghchi says a deal is "within reach." Let me show you what is within reach right now.

- 11 F-22 Raptors on Israeli tarmac since yesterday.
- Two carrier strike groups converging with 150-plus aircraft.
- 500-plus combat aircraft in theater.
- 700 tons of munitions pre-positioned via C-17.
- Every warship cleared from Bahrain.
- A P-8A submarine hunter circling the Strait of Hormuz.
- 40 aerial refueling tankers staged for sustained operations.
- Turkey planning border incursions for the day after.
- Khamenei's shadow government activated.
- China selling Iran supersonic anti-ship missiles.
- Modi in Jerusalem signing $8.6 billion in defense deals including Iron Dome technology transfer.
- India telling its citizens to leave Iran immediately.
- Germany advising nationals in Israel to prepare for airspace closures.
- The US Embassy in Beirut evacuating.

That is what is within reach.

Iran's Foreign Minister is boarding a plane to Geneva saying diplomacy can solve this. He said the same thing before Midnight Hammer in June. Twelve hours before B-2s hit Fordow, Iranian diplomats were discussing enrichment percentages in back channels. The bombs did not wait for the talking to finish.

EN

tail everyone is missing in the optimism.

Trump said today his "preference" is diplomacy. Preference. Not commitment. Not policy. Not red line.

He used the word preference the way you use it when you have already decided what happens if the preference is not met.

Witkoff already told you Iran is one week from bomb material.

Araghchi already confirmed Iran will never accept zero enrichment.

Trump already said zero enrichment is the only acceptable outcome.

Those three statements cannot coexist. One of them breaks by Tomorrow.

Iran is arriving in Geneva with a proposal to export some enriched uranium while retaining enrichment rights. Washington's position is zero enrichment, full stop.

The gap between "some" and "zero" is not a negotiation. It is the distance between a deal and a target list.

And here is the part the Stock and Bond Markets have not processed: The second carrier, the Ford, is arriving in theater as the talks begin.

You do not time a carrier strike group's arrival to coincide with negotiations unless the carrier is the negotiation.

Its presence at the table is the argument Washington is making without saying a word.

The appearance to most observers seems to be the US saying Agree to our terms, or the platform delivering the consequences is already in position.

Trump told CNBC today that "Iran wants a deal more than we do." That framing is not diplomatic. That is a man holding leverage and letting the other side know he knows it.

When the party with 500 aircraft tells the party with a collapsing currency that they want the deal more, it is not an observation. It is a final offer.

Geneva on Thursday is not a negotiation. It is a sentencing hearing where the defendant has been offered a plea deal. The evidence has been presented. The military architecture is the prosecution's case. The F-22s are the exhibit. The carriers are the verdict waiting to be read.

Araghchi can accept the terms or reject them. If he accepts, the carriers go home and the market prices out $10 of risk premium overnight. If he rejects, the carriers do not go home. They do what carriers do.

The preference has been stated. The alternative has been staged. And the clock that started on February 19 does not pause because someone boarded a plane to Geneva.

Within reach. Yes. But what is within reach depends entirely on which hand you are watching.

Sometimes, a seemingly totally unrelated item pops-up, and it lets everyone know how things are __actually__ going. That happened. Today.

Saudi Arabia increased its Oil Production to max capacity today "In case negotiations fail and a conflict begins which might affect global oil availability should Iran no longer be selling oil."

No one in their right mind increases an entire nation's oil output "in case . . . ." They do it because they are told it will be needed. Saudi Arabia increasing its output is the indication to me, "war. Tomorrow." Full stop.

If Hal is right, the price of fuel is about to go way up.

Yet, Iran (Persia) will not be destroyed according to the prophecy of Ezekiel 38 which defines Persia to unite with Turkey (the bands of Gomer), Libya, and Ethiopia to mobilize against Israel.

To survive Iran (Persia) will need to take out a lot of the USA's and Israel's air assets.

If this happens, it is going to lead to a rumor of fear within the USA which will last for one year and the next (Jeremiah 51:46).

There is no point in talking at all. Any solution that leaves the Islamic Republic intact as the government in Iran will not honour any agreement. (And please, just concentrate for a moment - I don't really want to have to pre-empt a bunch of whaddabout-the-Americans-not-honouring-their-word distractions).

That does not mean the Americans should get into a hot-war with Iran either. It is not their duty to save Iran from its government, and there is no will in the American public for such an endeavour anyway.

The two countries don't need to be friends; they don't need to be enemies. They should just be nothing to each other. If intelligence shows that Iran is firing up weapons facilities to a threatening level, the Americans should do pin-point missile attacks to destroy them, but no warning ahead and no talk afterward. It should be come like a natural cause-and-effect phenomenon. Build nukes attract a missile attack. No talking.

Iran may offer a "deal" and the U.S. may even accept it, but no "deal" with the U.S. works because the U.S. will freely renege, accuse Iran of cheating, or otherwise break the terms of the deal when it suits them. The word of the U.S. even on paper is no damned good.

Dear article writers , aircraft carriers are sitting ducks in front of hypersonic missiles.They belong to the past .Trump needs an off ramp rather then an attack on Iran.This war is an existential war to Iran.And if the war starts Saudi Arabia will have no oil wells or oil fields in working conditions either .

Talks in Geneva have paused and "will resume later today"...tribal real-estate MONEY ("is the root of all evil") Witcough and tribal 666 NYC resident YaRead FAKE-REPRESENT the US...while Iran is represented by its Foreign Minister (=Secretary of State) and mediator Oman is also represented by its Foreign Minister...what could go wrong for REAL, GOOD, CHRISTIAN (Trump did surprise in his State of the Union address calling the US a "CHRISTIAN COUNTRY"...is he repenting and, as personally expressed "trying to get into Heaven"?) AMERICANS? EVIL VS. GOOD pulling Trump in opposite directions while ONLY TRUMP has the final decision, final word and "holds the (near) future of the World in his hands"...PRAY he chooses peace instead of "thou shall not KILL" from the Ten Commandments!!!

A real estate buddy and a Zionist brother in law (both unelected non officials with no experience or training) will determine if thousands or even millions of human beings will have an earthly near term future based on their understanding of Iran's intentions today.

Sort of gives you that warm and fuzzy "im in good hands" feeling doesn't it? .

The spring of the lawlessness and all the world sufferings today stems from the pseudo Israel. (These are not real Israelites. These are Askenazi and Edomites who make the 95% of the total population in Israel.) This pseudo Israel must be eliminated asap and it will be done personally by Jesus Christ in the last days.

Rothschild's Military is gathererd, not America's Military, nor the American People's, but it IS OUR BLOOD and upon OUR BACKS it is waged. The real enemy sits in the City of London and Pergammon. God is bringing His wrath to take care of them real soon, for oppressing His children. Enoch speaks to that beautifully. Let their fake Armageddon begin, and their fake messiah follow. We are DONE with them that much sooner. The sooner the better, this EXCREMENT of satan is REMOVED, by God Himself. Satan and his children's FOUL STENCH has been here way too long. It has gotten really old. And it STINKS far too much.

Just wait til the IRGC gets to sample the exquisite sounds of 6 or 8 squadrons of A-10's bearing down on their underground positions, paying special attention to all of the entrances, exits, and ventilation shafts of Iran's remaining underground facilities.

The A-10's will make search and rescue, as well as continuing rocket launches, difficult if not impossible. It's likely the US would only need to destroy Iran's oil and gas terminals and halting Iran's ability to market oil and gas.

I'm not sure what the US has in mind, but you can be sure they've got a few deceptions up their sleeve. Once everything kicks off, it will be interesting to see if the US allows the mullahs to escape, that they command an underground resistance.

Technology changes are ability to see the flows of history and reality. Technology buzzes us constantly. Technology has changed are perceptions and abilities to see the flows. We are not seeing the mountaintop view. The west is buying time hoping to maintain its power status. The trends are not in our favor and will come down to a stroke of genius. Which could and most likely be AI. I don't think either world power will hesitate.

Iran should put forth a directive to USA. Close all global bases . Give up all nuclear and ballistic weapons as you have proven yourself incapable of being a good global citizen and instead chose evil to bomb and subjugate the world over .
Sounds stupid right . What gives US any right to do what it has done for decades ? It's very sad . And it surely doesn't any American first or for the people .

It's already "today" in Geneva. They're 6 hours ahead of the US east coast, so 3:20am there now. The Iranian FM landed there a few hours ago. Dipshits Witkoff and son-in-law will be back and forth with the Iran situation and the Ukraine / Russia situation today (Thursday). Track record so far has been to have a meeting, agree to nothing except to go talk it over with the boss, and declare that great progress was made. I suppose that's a possible outcome for the real estate salesmen.

Could action aimed at Iran really be a rouse to catch Moscow off guard?

With all the fire powers in and around the eastern borders of European countries, air craft carriers in both the Mediterranean and the Persian gulf, an Iranian fly over would tale very few minutes of flight time to cover the 1500 miles needed to strike Moscow. Hal reported some time ago that the Russian southern radar installation was damaged, if not completed rendered inoperable. Hal also reported that France and GB are considering giving Nukes to Ukraine and we all know what that will do. I see a motive in this.

pakistan offered nukes to iran last year, iran built missles capable of reaching east coast usa. if they do it right one nuke emp over east coast, ballistic missles are hard to shoot down. would be a third of us without any power, cascade the midwest power grid, fifth column as well. they would get the usa on it heals likely with millions dying. it's all bad and may not stay regional, be ready

Mmmm yeah, I'm pretty sure Iran is not the one who's the judge at the sentencing hearing, lol. It's not going to be like Iraq. I think Iran will cause damage to us, but nothing remotely scary. They are a paper tiger. I do not agree with attacking them, but I'm also not delusional about their capabilities. Their threats to me sound like something from a page of history when Saddam was talking the same way that week.

The only way this would be a big issue for us is if Russia were involved, and they're not, nor will they be. Sorry, fuel will rise a little for just a few days, then back to normal. They will not close the Strait of Hormuz because they're just not capable of it. We would have that up and open with no issue.

The last couple of years have without a doubt proved they are, in fact, a paper tiger, along with their proxies. Again, I don't agree with attacking them at this time, but I will say if we are going to, then don't strike just a little. Deliver a decisive blow and end it once and for all. No tit for tat.

That all sounds fine and dandy, unless, above avg missles have been provided to Iran say from Russia / china , kinda like someone gave Ukraine some weapons and tanks and aircraft to see how they would fair in combat… makes u think right… I recall Putin saying well if you can provide weapons to our adversary, then we can provide them to your adversary, the big thing everyone is missing is just that !!! Because if we lose a strike force or a flat top then all hell breaks lose with our economy and politics.. don't believe me ? Just watch the clips from last night.. this whole thing is one giant powder keg and the plain truth is we cannot and should not take on a power the size of Russia in their backyard!! Don't believe me then why is a 1/3rd of our Air Force deployed over there? Why so may deadlines and finally remember when RUSSIA ADMONISHED THE USA that my friends was the warning and that's what's taking so long and I still give it less that 50% of action, just my take

Around 2009, a video was released on the Internet called "The Coming is Upon Us". It was produced by the IRGC and was intended for the IRGC only. It detailed Shiite theology regarding the return of the "Hidden" , or Twelveth Imam. According to this video, the return of the hidden Imam requires a World in chaos. War is about as chaotic as it gets.

It is possible that the religious zealots running Iran believe that this is the opportunity for the hidden Imam to return from the "occultation" where he has been hiding for well over a millennium. It is possible that Iran may choose to provoke war to make this happen. I have not heard any commentators reference the religious connotations to this crisis.

The other pillar is the destruction of Israel. Islam's jihad against the Jews is about 1400 years old. It is a blood feud. Iran will not give up support for the forces on Israel's border that can inflict serious damage on Israel with deniability for Iran.

We must also remember that Hezbollah is well entrenched in the United States. They also have connections to the Mexican drug cartels. we must be mindful of the serious possibility of guerilla activity here.

While the US "believes" it can boss other countries around, the one dot point I find interesting is;

- China selling Iran supersonic anti-ship missiles.

Bye, bye CSGs, China says "Hello Taiwan" because the US naval fleet is on the bottom of the ocean, and Russia announces Ukraine belongs to them now.

Meanwhile, Israel is sent back to the dark ages (as they should be) and the entire region now becomes Palestinian land.

The U.S.S George W. Bush CSG; The U.S.S. Nimitz CSG; The U.S.S. Harry S. Truman CSG and the U.S.S. Abraham Lincoln CSG all in the Middle East. That to me is an armada of 4 Carrie Strike Groups, a minimum of 4 Ohio Class submarines (Boomers!), probably 6 or 7; 4 Fast Attack Arctic Wolf submarines. at least 10 to 12 Burleigh Class Aegis Destroyers and other combat naval ships and tenders in the area.

Then you have the United States Air Force with B1B Lancers (Not used very much), B-2 Stealth Bombers (The Frisbee's) and F-22 Raptors, at least 300 Attack aircraft on the Carriers, let alone hundreds of other aircraft from F-16s to F-35 Stealth fighters, High Energy Weapons from land, sea, air and space.

The unknown, will Iran capitulate?
Will the United States stand down or attack?
Will the U.S.S. Nimitz be retired while on duty?
Will Israel throw the first punch? And will it be at Iran or the United States Navy and blame it on Iran?
Will Iran fire a Nuclear missile and will it go off-course and hit Gaza, thus fulfilling a prophecy, and cause Egypt to enter the fray?
Will the U.S. Special forces in the countries north of Iran and stationed in Iraq move in to secure Iran's nuclear weapons first, or only after a first strike?

Stay tuned to Hal's website... Listen this evening, same bat time, same bat channel.

My prediction. Tomorrow during the meeting, when it fails, Iran phones their leaders, which then starts the preemptive strike against all our assets. It just seems that is inevitable, because Iran would be in real dire straights if they did not attack with full force before we do. When that happens, it is very likely Russia and China will also get involved. Then, nation shall rise against nation and kingdom against kingdom. Get right with Jesus, as his judgment is nigh at hand.
